ABSTRACT

An absorptive product of the present invention comprises an absorptive body capable of absorbing and holding liquid and a flexible and liquid-impermeable trapping portion which temporarily traps the liquid which is to be absorbed by this absorptive body. Then, the underpants comprising the fitting section to which this absorptive product is detachably fit are made. For this absorptive body, a high liquid absorbing resin of 50 to 95 weight % is used.
